

Abbott Nutrition Statement on Melamine and Cyanuric Acid

January 15, 2009

Abbott Nutrition infant formulas are completely safe and we stand behind them.

Abbott infant formulas have consistently met all government standards and specifications around the world. Recent tests by the FDA on a wide variety of infant formulas and containers showed no melamine or cyanuric acid in any Abbott formulas.

All Abbott products tested in Canada are significantly below Health Canada's safety limits for melamine.

For detailed information, please consult the Health Canada Web site at www.hc-sc.gc.ca.